Swift Champ After Postoffice.

A dispatch from this city published in the Lexington Leader of yesterday says:

"Swift Champ, editor of the Bourbon News, a staunch Democratic newspaper of this city, has thrown his hat into the ring, and seeks the office of postmaster of this city under the administration of President-elect Woodrow Wilson. The announcement of Mr. Champ's intentions to become a candidate for the postmastership, it is said, follows a number of urgent requests that have been made by a number of his staunch friends, among whom are several Democratic leaders.

"It is said Mr. Champ has the backing of a number of influential politicians of Paris and Bourbon county, who will go the full length for him in his candidacy, and this, coupled with his record as a loyal Democrat, it is calculated, will carry considerable weight in the effort to secure for him the appointment.

"Mr. Champ has, through the medium of his newspaper, been in the front rank in the fight for the Democratic party, and at present is in the thick of the fray to further the cause of Hon. J. C. W. Beckham for the United States Senatorship, and was one of the first Democratic newspapers in the State to accord the former Governor his support.

"During the last race for the chairmanship of the State Democratic Committee he supported the Hon.
Rufus H. Vansant, and it was partly through his efforts that the county instructions were secured for him.

"Aside from this Mr. Champ will have the support of a number of politicians in adjoining counties who will exercise their best efforts in his behalf. At the present time there are four other candidates for the office, and while it is expected there will be a very lively contest, it is the opinion of his friends that his chances outnumber those of his opponents."
